DESCRIPTION OF INCIDENT
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> loss <input type="checkbox"/> unauthorized access <input type="checkbox"/> unauthorized disclosure
Description of incident	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Between March 10-12, 2018, the Organization’s office was broken into. Steps taken to reduce risk of harm to individuals	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Close curtains on the windows once school closes.</li> <li>• Delete personal information once it has been sent via email.</li> <li>• Lock laptop in a safe place in the school at the end of the day.</li> <li>• Install cameras in the outside lobby of the school.</li> </ul>

REAL RISK OF SIGNIFICANT HARM ANALYSIS
Harm Some damage or detriment or injury that could be caused to affected individuals as a result of the incident. The harm must also be “significant.” It must be important, meaningful, and with non-trivial consequences or effects.	The Organization reported that “Families may encounter personal embarrassment [sic] if they see a photo of their child that they did not authorize...The child allergy list includes medical information regarding which children have allergy and diet restrictions. Regarding staff there is potential [sic] that the above may happen but it is not sure for certain what type of harm might occur [sic] if any.”  In my view, the contact and health/medical information of the children could be used to cause the significant harms of humiliation and embarrassment. The contact, identity, financial and profile information of staff could be used to cause the significant harms of identity theft, financial loss and fraud.

Real Risk The likelihood that the significant harm will result must be more than mere speculation or conjecture. There must be a cause and effect relationship between the incident and the possible harm.	The Organization reported that “The laptop was stolen and is password protected. The files on the laptop were not named. As a result the information could not be used to identify staff sensitive [sic] information. It is uncertain how likely there is to be significant harm because it is unknown if the thieves [sic] were able to access the files with the sensitive information.” In my view, the likelihood of harm resulting from this incident is increased because the personal information was compromised due to the malicious action of an unknown third party (theft). Further, despite the fact the laptop was encrypted with a password, it is not known whether the Organization used a strong password to encrypt the personal information contained in the laptop. The information has not been recovered, and some of the affected individuals are part of a vulnerable population (children).
