REAL RISK OF SIGNIFICANT HARM ANALYSIS
Harm Some damage or detriment or injury that could be caused to affected individuals as a result of the incident. The harm must also be “significant.” It must be important, meaningful, and with non-trivial consequences or effects.	The Organization reported that, “Based on the personal information which was breached, we believe there is a risk of fraud and identity theft to the client whose mortgage application documents were stolen. Client personal information within the file would allow someone with malicious intent to pose a real risk of significant harm to the client. This harm may come in the form of opening of fraudulent bank accounts, loans, and credit cards. If these risks are realized the client may also have negative effects on their credit.” I agree with the Organization’s assessment. A reasonable person would consider that the contact, identity, employment and financial information at issue could be used to cause the significant harms of identity theft, fraud and financial loss. Email addresses could be used for the purposes of phishing, increasing the affected individuals’ vulnerability to identity theft and fraud. These are all significant harms.

Real Risk The likelihood that the significant harm will result must be more than mere speculation or conjecture. There must be a cause and effect relationship between the incident and the possible harm.	The Organization reported; We believe that the likelihood that harm could occur due to the stolen laptop is low. The laptop has security safeguards in place to prevent unauthorized access to information. Once the item was reported stolen, access to the ...network was revoked for the device on January 13th. The likelihood of harm resulting from the stolen paper mortgage documentation is elevated as it is not clear whether the criminals are looking for items for quick financial gain or if they are into elaborate financial and/or identity crimes. To date the information contained in the mortgage application documents has not been recovered... I agree with the Organization's assessment. The likelihood of harm resulting from this incident is increased because it resulted from malicious intent (theft) and the mortgage documents have not been recovered.
DECISION UNDER SECTION 37.1(1) OF PIPA
Based on the information provided by the Organization and given the circumstances of the incident, I have decided that there is a real risk of significant harm to the affected individual. A reasonable person would consider that the contact, identity, employment and financial information at issue could be used to cause the significant harms of identity theft, fraud and financial loss. Email addresses could be used for the purposes of phishing, increasing the affected individuals' vulnerability to identity theft and fraud. These are all significant harms. The likelihood of harm resulting from this incident is increased because it resulted from malicious intent (theft) and the mortgage documents have not been recovered. I require the Organization to notify the affected individual in accordance with section 19.1 of the Personal Information Protection Act Regulation (Regulation). I understand the affected individual was notified by telephone and by letter on February 7, 2020.
